Collected $1,000 in pop bottles

D.A.R.E. supporter is a unique donator

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It is no secret that D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) programs survive on donations.

And the Wayne D.A.R.E. program is no exception.

But the local D.A.R.E. program has a very unique and special supporter, a donator who has made it a personal crusade to raise money for the program.

He's Rick Swope.

In less than a year, Swope has donated approximately $1,000 to the Wayne D.A.R.E. program. He does his own door-to-door fundraising, collecting returnable pop bottles which he returns to the stores for cash.

Swope also has donated his efforts to such organizations as Life Care Ministries, SOS Crisis Center in Ypsilanti and Veteran causes.

"People in this area are so generous. They have heart," Swope said. "This is my way of giving back. I've had help and now I like to be the one giving help.”

Swope said he is a former drug addict. He has been off of drugs for three years and off of alcohol for 11. He said one day when he was under the influence of drugs and contemplating suicide he called the SOS Crisis Center in Ypsilanti.

“I was in misery, so I called them and they told me they cared. That's all it took. Now I try to give back what I can with small donations.

“Collecting bottles and helping others is my ministry.”

Swope said that his future plans include attending Bible college and working hands on at his church. He said he is a member of the Full Temple Gospel Church on Palmer Road in Westland. He works mornings there doing janitorial duties and helping in their soup kitchen.

“It was prayers that got me off drugs and God who put peace in my heart. As long as I stick with the church and focus on God, I won't relapse,” Swope said.

Swope devotes about four hours a day collecting cans and bottles. On a good day he can collect $40.

He doesn't keep any of the money for himself. He supports himself on a VA pension and Social Security. He served in the Air Force from 1971-73.

Why did Swope choose D.A.R.E. as one of his projects?

“Because drugs is such a horrible problem in our society,” he replied. “I want to do what I can to help.”

Wayne D.A.R.E. Officer Rob Puckett said that the program uses money collected by Swope for supplies like t-shirts and bumper stickers for students. D.A.R.E. is entirely supported by fundraisers and donations.

Swope is the only private donator of the Wayne D.A.R.E. program. The rest of the funding comes from business donations and fundraisers.

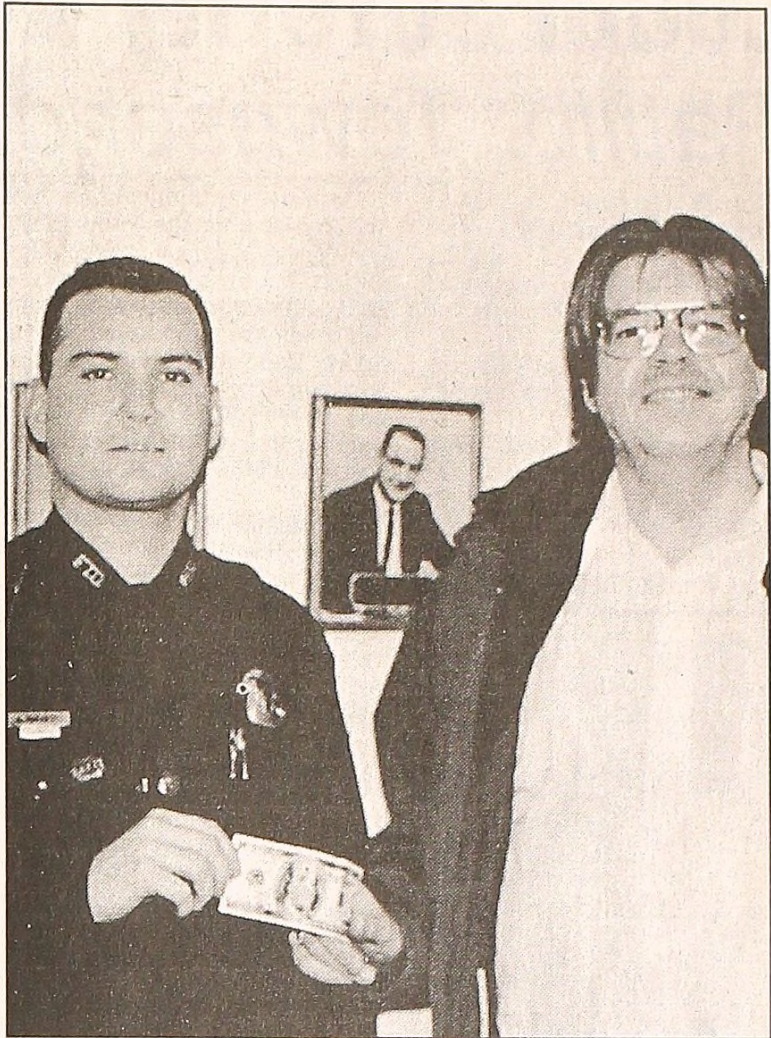

What would Swope say to the hundreds of D.A.R.E. students he helps?

“Love God, like yourself and don't even start on drugs.”

To help the Wayne D.A.R.E. program, tickets are available for an all-you-can eat dinner buffet from 11 a.m. until 8 p.m. at Cleopatra's Restaurant, 32159 Michigan Ave. The buffet is on April 25, and tickets are $10 each.

Tickets may be obtained at the Wayne Police Department and all elementary schools in Wayne.

For further information, please contact Puckett at 734-721-1598.

Health-safety award goes to W-W schools

The Michigan Association of School Boards announced this week that the Wayne-Westland School District is the recipient of a Best 2001 Education Excellence Award.

The program recognizes innovative programs that contribute significantly to student achievement for all students. The Wayne-Westland School District won its award in a new category - Health and School Safety.

School officials said that the program is called the Three R's for Health Learners. The Lincoln-Oakwood school-based clinic is more than just a health clinic. Located at Lincoln Elementary School, the clinic serves students and families of Lincoln and Jefferson Barns Elementary Schools.

The goal of the program is to reduce barriers to learning through prevention, education and direct medical services. The elementary population is this high-needs community is at-risk.

The elementary and secondary schools all qualify for Title I Federal funding. Over 70 percent of elementary students are eligible for free reduced lunches. There is a high degree of absences from school, as well as a lack of transportation and money for medical care.

The program recognizes innovative programs that contribute significantly to student achievement.

How does the staff at the clinic help these families on a day-to-day basis? By practicing the Three R's:

Recovery: The clinic provides basic primary care, immunizations, lab work, prescriptions, and mental health consultations;

Resources: Nurses also provides monthly health education lessons to all classes at Lincoln and Jefferson. Oakwood Healthcare System's resident physicians teach classes and work in the clinic. An annual community health fair on-site provides services, sample products, and information for students and families;

Reading: The clinic staff promotes literacy by giving books to clients, talking with parents about the value of reading, distributing a newsletter, and providing vision care.

The primary financial source for this program is a philanthropic group, the Oakwood Foundation. This means changes in governmental regulations or political agendas do not threaten the sustainability of the program. They provided the start-up costs and continue to cover the majority of operating expenses.

The Oakwood HealthCare System contributes equipment and supplies. Wayne-Westland schools provides maintenance, utilities and supplies. The administration is shared.

Since the beginning of the partnership in December 1997, participation rates in all activities have increased. Patient visits to the clinic are over 3,376.

The nurse and resident physicians have presented over 5,409 classroom health lessons. Four annual health fairs have attracted over 1,475 participants and over 537 community sponsors/volunteers.

Student attendance, parent participation in school events, and test scores have improved at both Lincoln and Jefferson-Barns Elementary Schools.

The Wayne-Westland School District were presented the award in a special ceremony in Troy. That ceremony was scheduled for April 10.

Band holds paper drive

The Wayne Memorial Instrumental Music Boosters remind residents that the organization's paper and pop-bottle drive will continue until the end of April.

Boosters are collecting the items to help fund various music programs.

Residents are urged to drop off pop-bottles and paper at the old Pizzuti's Pizza parking lot, the corner of June and Wayne Road. Boosters will be on hand to collect the items from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday. On Saturday and Sunday, items can be "dropped off at any time."

For further information, contact Ginny Smith at 721-8142 or Beth Jackson at 728-2407.

Boosters also pointed out that the weekend of April 21-22, they will be picking up items door-to-door.

Local sorority announces scholarship recipients

Patillo, Townsend, Cook win awards

Three outstanding Wayne Memorial High School seniors this week were named recipients of the Zeta Nu Zeta, Archonettes of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. Year 2001 scholarships.

The three are: Mary Patillo, Danielle Townsend, and Yolonda Cook.

Patillo has been accepted at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and also at Northwestern University, in Chicago.

Patillo says she has a tough decision to make in choosing what college to eventually attend, but she knows what she wants to do once she begins her college education: Major in Kinesiology/Pre-Med, and study photography.

Mary's dream is to become a Sports Medical Doctor. Patillo has received many scholastic awards and is very much involved in community service. She loves classical music and is an outstanding piano player.

Townsend, the Archonette of the Year, has received offers from several universities but may use her scholarship to attend Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo. Danielle has worked very hard as the president of the Archonettes, which is the youth group of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority.

Sorority officials note that Townsend is a 'born leader.' Her community work as an Archonette is highly commendable. She plans to become a dentist.

For her community service and work, Cook also was presented the sorority's Youth Award. She has been a member of the Archonettes for more than four years. Her goal in life is to become a registered nurse.

Yolonda has picked Madonna University or Clark University in Atlanta, Georgia, as her next stop on the road to earn a college degree.

Community Activist Bererlyn Jordan serves as Archonette Adviser.

Surprise!

Surprise birthday parties are very difficult to pull off. But if prizes were awarded for deceiving an honoree, then the family committee that planned Florrestine "Flo" "Scoot" Hankerson's party deserves an Academy Award for ingenuity. The committee members told "Flo" they were sponsoring a cabaret, and she had to help sell tickets. It worked. She sold 10 tickets to her own surprise birthday party. She was more than surprised, she was overwhelmed when she walked into the room at the Booker T. Dozier Building and was greeted by a chorus of "surprises" and "Happy Birthdays". The party goers enjoyed a delicious repast and Flo greeted co-workers, friends, neighbors and family all evening, admonishing them for not telling her about the party. Memorial Day parade theme winner revealed

The author of the 2001 Inkster Memorial Day Parade Theme Contest winner was announced by Parks and Recreation officials on Monday.

The honor of creating the theme for the Memorial Day celebration goes to Danesha Latham.

Danesha, an 11-year-old Blanchette Middle School student, penned the theme, They Fought with Courage and Honor which committee members picked as the most appropriate for the occasion.

"We had many entries again," noted Ron Wolkowicz, Inkster Parks and Recreation director, "and the committee had a tough task making its final decision."

"But Danesha's entry was deemed and most appropriate for the occasion," Wolkowicz stressed.

Danesha will be presented a $50 U. S. Savings Bond for her creativeness and will be among the guests of honor at the annual Inkster Memorial Day Parade.

The parade will be staged on Monday, May 28.

Danesha will receive the bond during a ceremony at the end of the parade.

Wolkowicz said he and the recreation staff would like to thank the Memorial Day Parade committee and all of the participants who entered this year's contest.

"We will look forward to your entries again next year," Wolkowicz added.

Inkster Goodfellows seek volunteers

The Inkster Goodfellows are in need of a few good men and women.

"We're in need of some volunteers to help us ensure that children in need do indeed have a Merry Christmas," said Ruth E. Williams, a longtime member of the Goodfellows. "It is so very important that we continue that ongoing tradition of helping those who are in need in our community."

The Goodfellows plan to hold a meeting at 6 p.m. on April 17 at the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Complex. The recreation complex is located at 2025 Middlebelt Road.

Tickets on sale for Beard, Hicks 'Roast'

After raising $5000 last year to fund five scholarships to help finance college education for five local high school seniors, the board of directors of the Khamalaw H. White Foundation has set a goal to top last year's figure.

Dr. Terrel LeCesne, the foundation's executive director, recently announced that Kay Beard, Vice Chairperson, Wayne County Board of Commissioners, and Inkster historian-journalist, Leana Hicks, have agreed to be "roastees" this year.

"I guess you can call this an Ebony and Ivory Roast," said Dr. LeCesne. "Last year we had a great time at the expense of Tom (Mooradian), and this year we expect to have as much fun and hopefully raise twice as much money."

The tribute to Commissioner Beard and to Hicks and the "Roast Brunch" will be held from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. on Saturday, May 12, at the Hawthorne Valley Country Club, Westland.

Tickets are $30 per person, (half the price of the ticket is tax deductible because of the foundation's non-profit status. It is a federally registered non-profit corporation).

For ticket information call 313-562-6805.

If you choose, you may send a check for the ticket amount to the Foundation by mailing the request to: Khamalaw H. White Foundation, P.O. Box 957, Inkster, Mich. 48141-2709.

Briody, Juriga earn Boys and Girls Club honors

The Romulus Boys and Girls Club presented its annual "Volunteer of the Year" and "Key-Community Service" awards during a recent ceremony at Wick Elementary School. Award winners for this year were Louise Briody (volunteer) and Debbie Juriga (community service).

Juriga is the principal of Wick Elementary School and Briody is the Executive Secretary to Romulus Curriculum Director Tom Dolan.

Juriga was honored for her work in establishing the Wick Boys and Girls Club site. A special $75,000 grant from the Post Cereal Corp. enabled the Wick Site to open in September of last year.

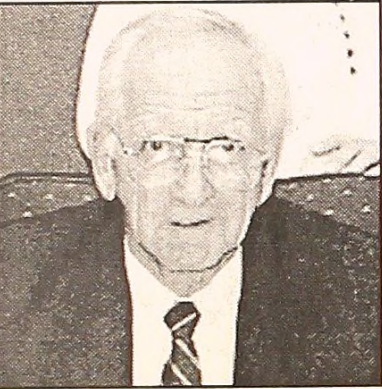

Briody was honored for her extensive work with the successful "Breakfast with Lloyd" fundraiser last spring. This event brought University of Michigan football coach Lloyd Carr to Romulus for a motivational speech.

The awards were presented by Frank Rigger, head of the Romulus Boys and Girls Club and Dave D'Annunzio, head of the club's Community Support group. Also honored at the festivities were the entire Boys and Girls Club staffs from both Wick and a sister club at Merriman Elementary.

The Romulus Boys and Girls Clubs have a membership of 675 children and provide quality child care until 8:30 p.m.

Boys and Girls Club honorees included Louise Briody and Debbie Juriga. They were congratulated by Dave D'Annunzio and Frank Rigger of the club, Board of Education President Michael Woods and Superintendent Joel Carr.

We are fortunate to have Lynn Rivers as our representative

We often take direct aim at our elected officials in this column. More times than not these men and women let the power of their position go to their heads, and make decisions based on keeping that power, rather than for the good of their constituents.

Many of our elected officials are from privileged backgrounds. Many are lawyers. Particularly at the state and national levels it takes enormous amounts of money to get elected in most districts.

One elected official that bucks the privileged tradition, is our congresswoman, Lynn Rivers (D-Ann Arbor). She was in Belleville and Romulus to talk about her humble beginnings a few weeks ago, and quite frankly, many of the adult education students she spoke to were enormously inspired by the congresswoman's story.

And you know, you probably would be too. Lynn Rivers went from a pregnant high school girl to a powerful congresswoman in just over a couple of decades. Along the way she managed to put herself through high school, college and law school while raising three children.

Her tough beginning helped mold a bright future. Working through various levels of education while raising children tends to make one very organized and a master of time management. Lynn has used those attributes to make her a very effective member of Congress.

I don't always agree with Lynn. Some watchdogs call her a "liberal," and representing Ann Arbor can earn you that label without blinking an eye. However, she also represents more conservative areas like Wayne and Westland, and somehow manages to earn the respect and confidence of conservatives as well.

She does this by working hard and working her district. So many senators and congressmen win election, move to Washington D.C., and only return to their district for fundraising events that help them win the next election.

Rivers is in her district most of the time. She holds endless coffees at local restaurants. Sometimes only one or two people will attend, but she keeps on hosting, because sometimes thirty or forty people will show.

She's not flashy nor does she seek the lime-light. When a president or top political leader comes to town, Rivers does not crowd the dais. But you can bet she will be there, only talking and listening to constituents, not the hot shot political leader.

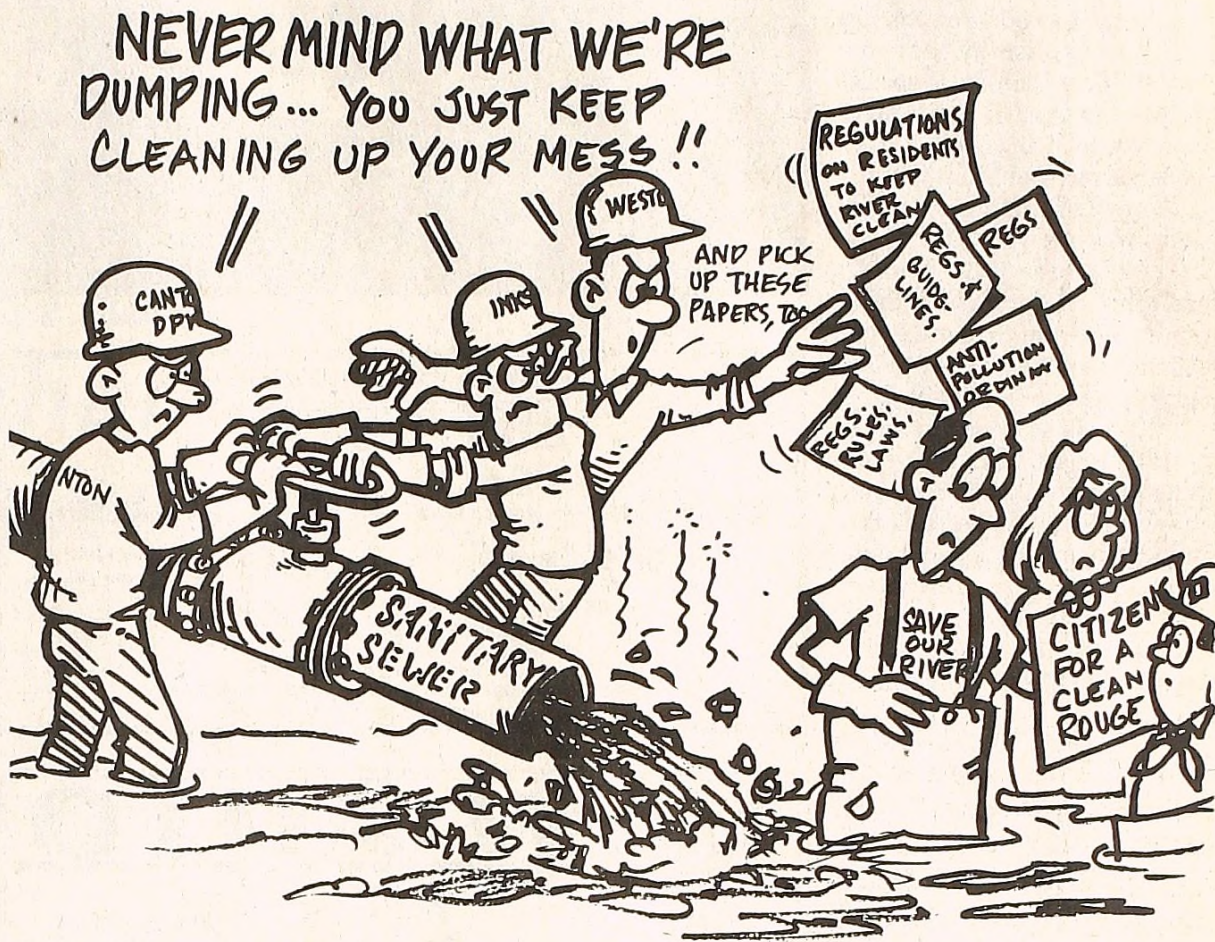

When Rivers was first elected to office, nearly a decade ago, MCN did not support her. Nor did we the second time she ran. It took us awhile, and others, to learn that her grassroots, door-to-door campaigns were for real. Because she was just like the Mr. and Mrs. Smith's she called upon, that down-to-earth nature, made her a favorite.

Back then all the political pundits expected her to be beaten. Now no one does. Congresswoman Lynn Rivers is firmly entrenched as our representative in Congress, and I believe we are all fortunate to have her there.

Mike's musings

Utility rate shocks are coming

If Paul Revere were to make another midnight ride, rather than the British he might be warning: "The rate hikes are coming! The rate hikes are coming!"

As Michiganians watch the unfolding chaos in California over utility supplies and consumer rates, many are taking an amused attitude that "it serves them right" and saying it can't happen here.

Others are beginning to wonder, "Could it happen here?"

In Paul Revere's case, his warning was a call to arms for a determined stand against encroaching tyranny.

The British troops were indeed marching with the intent of confiscating weapons and ammunition (gunpowder) in the common armories of the towns and communities to disarm an increasingly surly and rebellious population in the colonies.

The colonialists realized this was their last chance to take a stand for liberty.

About three years ago natural gas and electric utilities in Michigan struck a bargain with the state legislature and regulators in which rates were increased slightly to allow the utilities to recover their "stranded" costs in anticipation of "deregulation" of the industry.

The utilities were required to hold those increased rates constant for three years. At the end of the three years, other companies would be allowed to compete with the state created monopolies.

Medium Rare

The former monopolies would be required to allow competitors to use their pipelines and transmission lines for a "fair" charge. Much the same arrangement was set up in California but the state government there went a lot further:

The private utility suppliers were required to divest themselves of the ability to produce energy and would be limited to distributing gas and electricity purchased from the producers. The utilities were even prohibited from signing long-term contracts with the producers limiting them to paying whatever current price suppliers were charging.

As the cost of producing, acquiring and distributing energy rose sharply, the utilities were caught in the middle. They were paying ever-increasing costs to the producers while prohibited from raising rates to consumers. PG&E (Pacific Gas & Electric) finally threw in the towel and petitioned the courts for Chapter eleven bankruptcy protection.

But could the rolling blackouts happen in Michigan? Answer: They very well could if the politicians in Lansing perform like politicians.

The two major natural gas suppliers in Michigan, MichCon and Consumers Power, have already petitioned the state to raise their rates when the arbitrary lid is lifted. Consumers wants to raise its rates by 100 percent and MichCon is proposing a 75 percent increase.

Consumer Power's three years ended April 1 of this year but the utility is voluntarily holding the old rate for one more month. MichCon's frozen rates end next January.

To add to the uncertainty, MichCon and Detroit Edison (electricity supplier) appear poised to merge into one company.

The politicians' normal instinct is to protect the public (read voters) from significant price increases in any commodity. However, whether rent controls, gasoline prices or energy rates, government price controls always result in shortages.

Current sentiment in Lansing seems to favor letting rates go up but providing some government help for low income consumers. With the California fiasco in front of them, it is unlikely the state will try to hold rates below market level.

If you are not on a "budget plan" to provide equal monthly payments throughout the year, now might be a good time to consider getting on one.

Turner announces school board re-election bid

To the editor:

Once again I am declaring my candidacy for the Wayne Westland School Board, and I would like the opportunity to continue to serve you and your children as a School Board Trustee.

The upcoming School Board election, June 11th, is very important to the entire school district community. We are just about finished upgrading every building in the district, and I would like to see this through to the end.

We made a promise to you four years ago to be the voice of the students first, and the parents second. Every school building has been visited at least once each of the last four years, while representing your children and you. I would therefore like to continue being your voice on the board of education.

Over the past four years I have earned "Board Certification," and have received the "Award of Merit," from The Michigan Association of School Boards, in Lansing, and have been our Board Secretary this past year.

There is a great deal of work left to do, and it is important, to me, to once again, to be your voice on your Board of Education for our five communities. And it is a pleasure to reaffirm the promise made four years ago to be a Board Member for "students first, and parents second."

Therefore I ask for you vote June 11th. I will be running a low level campaign and am asking for your help as well. You will not see many of my yard signs, nor will your mail boxes be filled with junk mail. You can help by making five telephone calls to your friends and ask that they consider voting for Ed Turner. I truly believe that "The Adventure Begins With Education."

Thank You,
Ed Turner

Tax software turns ignorance into bliss

April 15 used to be a stress day for me. My blood pressure surged during my last-minute rush to turn in my income tax forms on time. It was only a miracle that my heart never exploded.

But ever since I purchased income tax software, the anxieties are gone.

No longer do I have to worry about finding the necessary forms and instructions. As a last-minute payer, I used to have to run from library to library to find the right schedules. Sometimes this involved standing in line at copy machines to reproduce certain forms from ringed binders.

Since tax software has all the forms and schedules, I do everything at home. In refund years, I work with electronic forms. In pay years, I don't print out any forms until the end.

The software also spares me a lot of repetitive work by importing data from the previous year's forms so there's no need to fill routine personal and employment information. Since I didn't move or switch jobs, all I had to type in was my salary, interest income, and financial investments. Then the software prepared my federal and my state forms simultaneously.

My most difficult chore was to write and sign the check. Maybe next year I'll make things even easier by getting an electronic checkbook.

Yet, there are disadvantages to using tax software.

Its ease of use whizzes me past all the things that used to make me nervous. When I did tax work with paper and pencil, I had time to understand what I was doing as well as what mistakes would cost me. An incorrect computation could mean a penalty. Incomplete paperwork could, theoretically, land me jail.

Paper and pencil tax work also required me to read all the instructions and to keep an eye on IRS and Michigan Department of Treasury's innovations and to understand them.

This year the tax law changes went right by me. Though there were some minor changes, I don't know what they were. But at least now I can relate to the expression "ignorance is bliss." It is.

Or at least I thought it was until I read an article, "It's Their Money: Your income taxes are higher than ever," in Tuesday's Wall Street Journal.

It indicated that I'm not the only one who has been lulled in complacency by the tax system.

Not having been paying attention, I was unaware "that individual income taxes now grab a higher share of U.S. income than at any time in modern U.S. history, at 10.4%.

In citing historical tables in the nation's budget for fiscal year 2001, the article stated that as recently as 1993, the tax man only grabbed 7.8%.

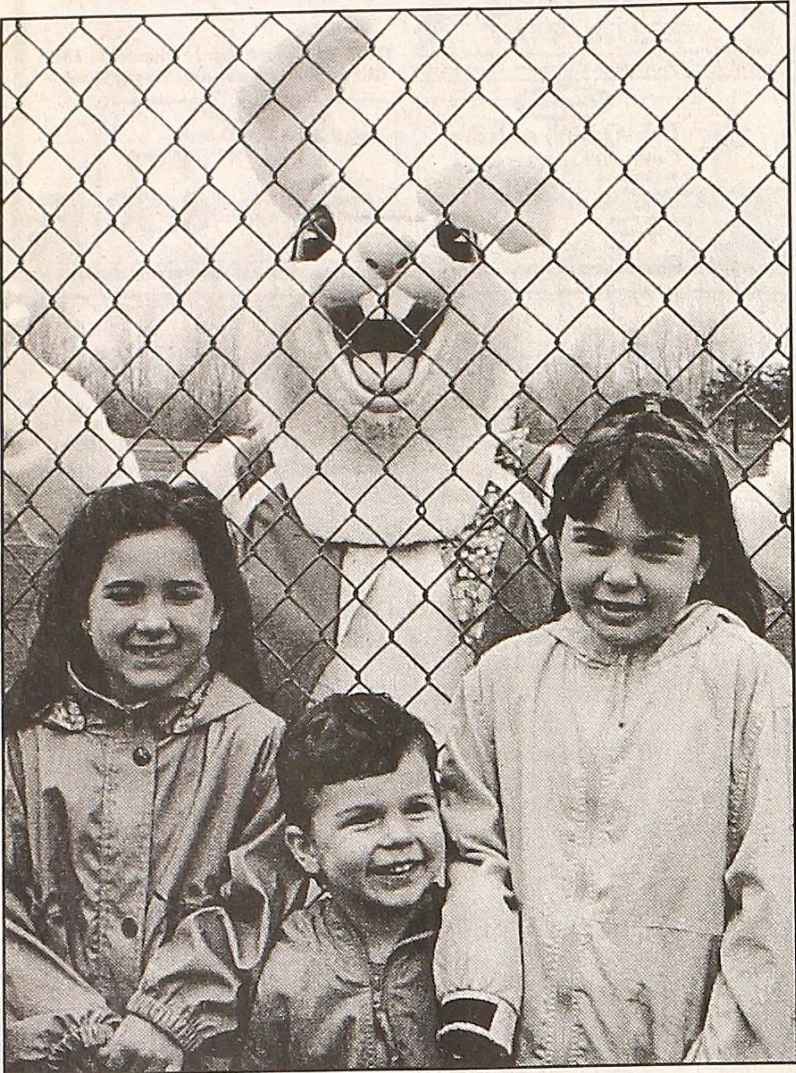

During the Vietnam War, the tax man took only 9.2%.

During the height of World War II, he took 9.4%.

The article also said that individual income taxes now account for more than half of all federal revenues, 50.2%, up from 44.2% as recently as 1993, while the corporate share has fallen.

"This tax-bracket creep is the main reason that overall federal taxes now soak up 20.7% of GDP," the article said.

The tax man is cooking us like frogs, slowing turning up the heat until we're boiled before we know it.

VB says Hull Road too fast

The Van Buren Township Board voted at the April 3rd meeting to pass a resolution to request the speed limit on Hull Road to be reduced.

Hull Road is a major east-west thoroughfare in the township. Residents along Hull Road have complained of speeders, and are concerned for the safety of children waiting for school buses along the road.

The resolution is being forwarded to the Wayne County Department of Public Services, because they have the responsibility for road management, including determination of speed limits.

Wayne County Commissioner John Sullivan in a letter to Van Buren Township Supervisor Cindy King indicated that Wayne County may be willing to change speed limits on some gravel roads if the township requests it with a resolution.

If the County Department of Public Services agrees with the request they will post the new speed limits.

Can state track champ Romulus repeat? 2001 Eagles could win unprecedented second crown

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

On paper, defending track & field state champ Romulus High looks like a shoo-in to repeat.

Seasoned Romulus coach Norb Glover and his veteran assistant Carl Lowe have an experienced group of outstanding athletes returning to their lineup, including an All-American High School long jumper in Ray Graves, whose talents aren't limited to the long jump.

Also, talent as personified by sprinters Charles Searcy, Michael Woods, Fred Harbor and Bruce Donald, who have been there and have done it, is also back to help the Eagles cause.

The question that is left for time to answer is: Can they do it again?

That question was directed to Glover Sunday night during a telephone interview.

"Can these kids repeat?"

"Don't ever go there," replied Glover. "It's not time to discuss a repeat. We don't need to put that kind of pressure on these kids this early in the season. Around these parts, we have this thing about predicting what we can do.

"What counts is what you do out there on the field. We take each day, each opponent one at a time."

Fair enough.

After posting a perfect 9-0 dual meet season, a tripeat in the Mega-Gold and winning an unprecedented third straight regional title a year ago, Romulus is back at the starting gate. But with this lineup of young talent, the Eagles have an edge on the others who are waiting for the gun to go off. They know what it takes to win championships in track and field.

Glover's Eagles will enter the 2001 season in unknown territory. They have been moved up to the Mega-White Division in the four tier Mega (Red, White, Blue and Gold) Conference.

In that division, Edsel Ford, a school rich in track & field tradition is waiting. So is a rich-in-depth Woodhaven, a school that has grown in size algebraically. Woodhaven will definitely make the defending state champs work for the title if they don't claim it for themselves.

On the other hand, the White Division offers Glover's Eagles an opportunity to prove themselves before regional and state competition.

The realigned and complete Mega-White Division includes: Dearborn Edsel Ford, Woodhaven, Redford Union, Taylor Truman, Dearborn Heights Crestwood, Trenton and Romulus.

Romulus was scheduled to open the 2001 campaign on Tuesday against Crestwood. On Thursday, they have a crossover with old foe, Robichaud, which is a Mega-Gold affiliate.

A year ago, Graves, as a junior soared 22 feet, 7 inches to win the gold at the state finals. Earlier this year, competing in a national meet, he leaped over 24 feet. He is also an intricate part of the 400-meter relay team this year; a team that could set all kinds of records.

Searcy, an All-State running back, will use his explosive speed in the 100 and 220-meter events. His best a year ago in the 100 was

Eagles off to shaky start

Despite an opening day 15-5 victory over Detroit Communications & Arts ball club, Romulus Coach Keith Brothers slowly is moving his fingers toward the panic button.

For three good reasons. The Eagles have lost three of their first five games this season.

And that is not how a veteran Romulus ball club was supposed to start the year.

Brothers' Eagles are off to a shaky start, winning two against unimpressive, newly-organized opponents but dropping three during a time the coach believes his team is ready to make a serious bid for a Mega Conference divisional championship.

"We can hit and we have the pitching staff," said Brothers Sunday night as he reviewed the team's five non-conference performances. "Our defense looked shaky, and it shouldn't be because we have experience on that diamond this year."

In spite of the 2-3 record, Brothers is convinced that his team will come around.

The Eagles certainly got off to a 'big bang'. They drilled 12 hits and scored 15, five in the first period, in their lopsided victory over the newly-organized Detroit Communications' team.

Brothers started Chris Deaton, a senior righthander, who didn't finish the first inning as the Detroiters scored three runs thanks to five walks in the opening frame.

Deaton was removed for reliever Steve Moore, who went on to pitch a two-hitter in his 4 1/3 innings. Moore also notched 10 strikeouts and walked three to earn credit for the victory.

Senior Alan Brohl launched his senior season with an outstanding effort. He collected three hits in as many appearances at the plate. He doubled, got a pair of singles, and also walked while driving in three Romulus runs.

Romulus sophomore Ron Buckley quickly established himself as a future diamond star as he stroked three singles and drove in

'Showtime'

After they dropped their first four games of the season, 'Showtime' got its act together and bounced back to win seven straight and the 2001 Romulus Parks and Recreation's Youth Basketball League Championship. Team and coaching staff members are: Leroy Talley (kneeling, from left), Derrian Cooley (ball boy), Jonathan Hawbaker, and Derris Cooley; second row are Coach Steven Cooley, Marcus Frison, Tariq Sharrief, Marquis Williams, Brian Lomas, Jamal Sam and assistant coach Andre Johnson. Not available at the time of the photo is team member Jason Armour.

Defending champ hands Wayne its first league golf setback

After turning back Southgate Anderson in their first Mega Conference golf match of the season, Wayne Memorial traveled to Carlington Golf Course where defending champ, Monroe, was waiting to test the Zebra golfers.

Despite an outstanding round by Wayne's Amber Henn, Monroe posted a 13-stroke, 209-222 victory over Coach Carol Newton's Zebras.

Henn managed to turn in a 44 for the 9-holes, which gave her a cut of medalist honors. She shared first place with Monroe's Katie Little.

Wayne's Kayla Slezak shot a 58. She was closely followed by teammate Cindy Diehl with 59.

"This was Cindy's first ever nine holes of golf and the team was elated with her playing ability," said Newton later.

Becky Knight carded a 61, followed by Christina Youmans's 69 and Lindsay Fallow's 70.

Earlier in the week, Wayne Memorial engaged Southgate and surfaced with an impressive 237-286 victory over their Mega Conference opponents.

Henn toured the nine-holes in 51. Knight chipped in with a 58, and Slezak carded a 61, followed by Fallow who finished with a 67. Christine Youmans's 72 and Kara Makino's 76 rounded out the Wayne scoring.

"This was the first match for many of our team members and they played extremely well for their first time out," Newton noted.

Newton has 11 golfers on the varsity roster this season. Only three are returning from last year's squad.

The 2001 Wayne Memorial lineup includes: Kayla Slezak, who serves as the team captain. She is a senior; Amber Henn, Christine Malmsten, Jessica Steele, Cindy Diehl, and LeeAnn Rutowski. Other team members are sophomores Becky Knight, Lindsay Fallow, and Kara Makino, while freshmen contributing to the team are Christina Youmans and Natalie Rodriguez.

Wayne Memorial will play its home matches at Fellows Creek. However, this year the Zebras also will utilize the new Gateway Course in Romulus where pro, Curtis George, has been helping to get the girls ready for the season.

"We really enjoy the time he has spent with us, and he has been a great help to these girls," said Coach Newton.

Ajlouny, Fraser shut out GC, 2-0, in season's opener

It was the best of ways to start a baseball season - the pitching was there and defense impeccable.

Senior righthanders Brandon Ajlouny and Julian Fraser combined on a five-hit pitching performance that jolted highly-touted Garden City, 2-0, in the season's open for Westland John Glenn.

Facing coach Todd Duffield's Rockets on the mound was Garden City's premier pitcher, Justin Ockerman, who worked the first three innings, struck out six and gave up one run before he went to the bench.

"Our pitching looked good and our defense was excellent," said Duffield after the GC victory. "It was a good way to start the season."

Ajlouny started on the mound and worked the first three innings. He also notched six strikeouts and walked three before Fraser took up where the starter left off.

Fraser gave up three of the five hits that Garden City managed to collect off of the two Rocket pitchers.

Glenn scored its first run in the 2001 campaign in the top of the third when Ajlouny worked Ockerman for a walk, then stole second and moved to third on a wild pitch. He scored on Jeff Koslowski's ground-out.

The Westlanders collected an insurance run in the top of the sixth as Koslowski singled and moved to second with Kyle Kutkowski's sacrifice bunt. A pass ball moved Koslowski to third and he came around when Andy Copland singled.

Koslowski not only scored one of the two Rocket runs but he also came up with a couple of defensive gems that erased potential GC scoring threats.

Ajlouny also got himself out of trouble when, with one man aboard, he managed to handle a line drive back to the mound and turned it into a double play.

The Westlanders made it 2-0 on the season by whipping Dearborn Edsel Ford 9-5 in the first game of a twin bill, but the Rockets saw their modest two-game winning streak cut by the T-Birds in the nightcap, 10-4.

In the opener, starter Dave Mijal went three innings, gave up one run, fanned five and walked three to get the victory. Mijal got help from Kutkowski who pitched two innings and was tagged for three runs before Craig Lewis was called upon to finish up.

Kutkowski managed to strike out six and walked one before he gave way to Lewis.

Glenn scored four runs in a big first inning as Rick Verville ignited the rally with a walk and scored when Ajlouny drilled a double that was booted by the outfielder, allowing the runner to score and Ajlouny to reach third.

Kutkowski's fielder's choice produced Glenn's second run and that was followed by Koslowski's single to right field, which brought Fraser to the plate.

Fraser then drilled a triple, scoring the two other runs in that inning.

Edsel came back in the second game and scored five times in the bottom of the second en route to a 10-4 victory.

Glenn starter Nate Campbell went 1 1/3 innings and was charged with five runs. He was relieved by Fraser, who gave way to Ajlouny and Verville.

If he seemed please with the pitching and the team's defense, Duffield was not happy with the ball club's hitting against its first two opponents.

"It is obviously too early in the season to determine if we have a problem, but off of our performances in our first three games, I felt that we are not getting the hits that we can," Duffield said.

Before the Easter vacation, the Westlanders had to contend with Plymouth-Salem (Monday) for their Western Lakes Conference opener. Then, on Wednesday, they were scheduled to host Northville in a conference crossover.

Wild pitch, pair of doubles doom Wayne

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Wayne Memorial came within two outs on a cold and rain-drenched Monday afternoon of winning its first ball game of the season.

After Wayne tied the score at 4-all in the top of the seventh thanks to Jose Sabino's leadoff single and Adam See's sacrifice fly, Lincoln Park replied with a bottom of the seventh, game-winning run as Wayne's starting pitcher, Pat Barter, gave up a pair of doubles, two walks and hit a batter that paved the way for the decisive run.

The 5-4 Wayne loss came in the wake of a 9-1 opening season defeat on the home field against non-conference opponent Livonia Churchill.

"We're disappointed with the early performance of our team," stressed Wayne coach Tom Wakefield, "but we remain optimistic about our future. Our defense is definitely not where we want it to be at this time."

Wayne committed an incredible 10 errors in its opening day loss to Churchill. The Zebras also managed to collect only three hits off of winning pitcher Phil Ochodnicki who struck out seven batters and walked four for his first win.

Both Wayne losses were to out-of-conference opponents.

Against Churchill, Wakefield started Ryan Ybarra on the mound. And the young righthander worked the first four innings, gave up five runs before he was relieved by Adam Zimmerman. Zimmerman finished up.

Ochodnicki lost his bid for a shutout in the bottom of the sixth when he issued a walk to Greg Laws, who was wild-pitched to second base. Then, after Ochodnicki retired two batters, he gave up a run-scoring single to See.

Against Lincoln Park, Barter, a righthanded senior, went the distance, gave up six hits, while he struck out five and walked three. His teammates committed three costly errors.

Dennis Marra held Wayne to five hits, two of those by Chris Montoya, who latched on to a pair of singles and an RBI.

Wayne enjoyed a 2-0 lead until ageless coach Tom Nolan's Railsplitters tallied a single run in the bottom of the third, tied the score at 3-all in the fifth, then took a 4-3 lead in the sixth.

Wayne was back in action on the home diamond yesterday.

The Zebras were scheduled to play Redford Union, weather permitting. The game ushered in the Mega-Conference season for both teams.

Like many of the local teams, Wayne is not scheduled to play during the spring break. Wakefield and the Zebras will return to action on April 17 when they entertain an improved Westland John Glenn ball club for a pair of non-conference games.

Wayne wins 800-meter relay at Crestwood

D.C. claims invitational championship

Wayne Memorial collected its share of the medals, including a gold, awarded on Saturday at the Dearborn Heights Crestwood Track & Field Invitational.

Coach Kevin Miller had the best 800-meter relay team in the nine-team field.

The Zebras came away with the gold as Delano Boles, Rod Abel, T. J. Dillard and Randy Lee covered the distance in a 1:35.4, beating host, Crestwood, to the wire by three seconds for their only first place.

"It was a good victory for the kids. They deserved the win," said Miller, who begins his fourth year as head track coach at Wayne.

Wayne also was awarded a silver as Lee leaped 18 feet, 2 inches in the long jump competition. Lee ran sixth in the 1,600-meters (4:55). Dillard's 11.4 in the 100-meter dash, and Abel's 10:27.1 in the 3,200-meters earned them bronzes in those events.

Abel toured the grueling 3,200-meters after he ran in the 800-meter relay event.

Lee also was awarded a fourth-place medal in the 200-meter dash after crossing the finish line in 24.1.

Dearborn Divine Child compiled a total of 113.5 points to emerge as the 2001 Crestwood Invitational champ. The host was runner-up with 103.5 points, followed by Woodhaven (101); Redford Union (47); Dearborn Fordson (42); Garden City (39); Wayne Memorial (35); Willow Run (29) and Redford Thurston (16).

Wayne Memorial will compete again this year in the top tier, the Red Division, of the Mega Conference.

In recent years Belleville has dominated the division and the Tigers appear to have enough holdovers from a year ago to continue their dynasty.

Freshman runs 2nd in 800 meters

Amy Barber is only a freshman, but the Wayne Memorial distance runner has quickly and decisively established herself as one to watch on the fast track.

Competing Saturday at the annual Dearborn Heights Crestwood Track & Field Relays, Barber completed the 1,600-meter run in 6:07. She finished second in a field of nine other teams.

Barber's time was second only to gold medalist Gloria Davis's performance. The Garden City distance runner beat her closest opponent across the finish line by five seconds.

Wayne Memorial coach Kevin Miller said that the team performed well against some excellent competition.

"We have our work cut out for us," he stressed. "But our work ethics are excellent, and at this point that's about all that matters."

Miller, whose staff includes assistant coaches Kristena Barrett, Julie Johnston, and Stephanie Richards, said that his team will compete in the Mega-White Division, a division that has a "lot of talent" this season.

At Crestwood, the Zebras finished fifth in the 1,600-meter relay with a lineup that included Teresa Wilcox, Kim Daniels, Barber, and Kim Weathers. Their time was 4:58.8.

In the 3,200-meter relay, and with Daniels, Barber, Kristen Tedders and Weathers in the four-some, Wayne picked up a fourth place (11:29), while Daniels also earned a sixth place in the 100-meter hurdles. She covered the obstacles in 19.09.

Miller's 800-meter relay team also finished sixth (2:02.9) with a quartet that included Paris Jones, Khelli Wade, Leslie Brown and Ebony Hill.

Wade also contributed a sixth-place in the 200-meter dash. She was clocked in 29.25.

Wayne Memorial was back on the track on Tuesday when they hosted Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

Canton's Neino subdues Franklin with a 2-hitter

Southpaw Greg Neino tossed a two-hitter, struck out a season's high 13 batters as Plymouth-Canton subdued arch-rival, Livonia Franklin, 5-1, Monday afternoon in the Western Lakes, Western Division opener for both teams.

Neino was in control all the way and missed the shutout in the bottom of the sixth when the Patriots collected their only run.

The senior hurler is 2-0 on the young season, while the Chiefs have compiled an impressive 4-1 won-lost record.

Canton got to Franklin's multi-talented pitcher, Joe Ruggiero, for a run in the third inning, made it a 2-0 ball game in the fourth, and erupted for a pair of runs before the Patriots came back to score.

Ruggiero went 6 2/3 innings before he left the mound. An outstanding basketball-football player who earned all-conference recognition in both sports, Ruggiero left for the dugout after he had given up a pair of hits to Jay Sofen, who doubled, singled and knocked in a run.

Ross Caid collected three of the Chiefs' hits. He came through with a pair of singles, a double and RBI. Brent Kwiatkowski also drilled a double and single in three appearances at the plate.

Coach Scott Dickey's Chiefs began the 2001 campaign with a sweep over South Lyon. They won the first, 4-1, and took the second 11-1 in a game abbreviated by the "mercy rule".

In their next outing, the Chiefs split a pair with Novi. They won the first 3-2 but dropped the second 6-4 in nine innings.

Canton is back on the diamond today at Allen Park for a doubleheader. The Jaguars are considered one of the best teams in the Mega Conference this season.

Then, on Saturday, the Chiefs square off in a twin bill with the Pioneers of Dearborn, and will come back on Tuesday to take on coach Dickey's "alma mater", Dearborn Divine Child.

Eagles

two runs, while Moore helped his own cause with a double and a single and four RBIs.

In what you sow thou shall reap fashion, Romulus found itself on the short end of a humiliating 15-3 loss inflicted on them by Dearborn Heights Annapolis.

It was a 2-2 ball game, however, until the fifth when the Cougars scored five runs to take a 7-2 lead. Annapolis added the frosting with a six-run top of the seventh surge.

Ryan Block started and lasted 4 2/3 innings, struck out eight, walked one and gave up three hits before he was removed for a reliever.

"Ryan pitched well and deserved better from his teammates," said Brothers afterward.

The Eagle hurler could have sued for non-support - the defense committed six costly errors against the visiting Annapolis.

Block also stroked two hits - one a double. He reached base three times. Joe Phillips doubled and singled for the losers.

Detroit Renaissance erupted for four runs in the first inning against Brohl en route to a 11-6 victory over Romulus. Brohl pitched five innings, fanned seven, and walked five in allowing five hits and six runs.

Champs

10.7, while he has been clocked in 22.8 for the 200.

Woods, who is heading to Eastern Michigan University on a football scholarship this fall, also will be competing in the 100 and 200-meter events.

Glover has state champ, Harbor, a junior, available again for the 400-meters. After helping the Eagles win the state title in the 400-meter relays a year ago, Harbor should be back in the four-some for the 400-meter relay.

Romulus also has a premier hurdler in Joey Wasson, who is off to an excellent start. He recently captured a gold at the AAU Indoor Invitational.

Other notable Romulus athletes include Talley, a senior long-jumper, quarter-miler; Bruce Donald, a senior sprinter; half-miler Humberto Camacho, who is an very promising sophomore, and senior Kaiter Lanne, also a half-miler.

Add to that list the names of miler Jerome Fowler, Adrian Simmons (half-miler), Myron Mosby (shot put, discus), Sam Estes (shot put discus) and Davis Moomaw (discus), and it is understandable why Mega-White coaches believe the road to the divisional championship goes through Romulus.
